DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-8 and 10, drawn to a seed coating composition comprising a water absorbing resin and a granulating material, wherein the water absorbing material is obtained by copolymerizing a monomer mixture containing N-vinylcarboxylic acid amide and a crosslinking monomer.

Group II, claim(s) 9, drawn to a coated seed.

The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The special technical feature in the claims is the absorbing resin. JP-03-223304 teaches a water absorptive resin having high gel strength and excellent chemical stability. JP-03-223304 teaches a compound of formula I (wherein R1 and R2 are each H or CH3) e.g. N-vinylacetamide is polymerized in the presence of at least one crosslinking agent (e.g. N, N'-methylenebisacrylamide) to obtain a water-absorptive resin (Abstract). These elements cannot be a special technical feature under PCT Rule 13.2 because the elements are shown in the prior art.

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

- a) N-vinylcarboxylic acid amide of formula I
- b) copolymerizable monomer

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

- a) elect a substituent for R1 and R2, selected from a hydrogen atom, a methyl group or phenyl group
- b) elect one copolymerizable monomer: acrylic acid, (meth)acrylamide-2-methylpropanesulfonic acid or vinylsulfonic acid

The following claim(s) are generic: 1.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: JP-03-223304 teaches a water absorptive resin having high gel strength and excellent chemical stability. JP-03-223304 teaches a compound of formula I (wherein R1 and R2 are each H or CH3) e.g. N-vinylacetamide is polymerized in the presence of at least one crosslinking agent (e.g. N, N'-methylenebisacrylamide) to obtain a water-absorptive resin (Abstract). These elements cannot be a special technical feature under PCT Rule 13.2 because the elements are shown in the prior art.

A telephone call was made to Bruce Kramer on November 24, 2008 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
